

: Can Web services deliver decision support?

by Daniel J. Power

Editor, DSSResources.COM

Web services describes a standardized way of integrating Web-based applications using open standards over an Internet protocol backbone.

Web services are client and server applications that communicate over the World Wide Web's (WWW) HyperText Transfer Protocol (HTTP).

Cloud services like Amazon Web Services (AWS) and Microsoft Azure can potentially host

Author: Daniel Power

Last update: 2015-11-25 09:42